FORUM

ISEG's partnership with the Forum gives you access to our Digital Membership. This includes access to advanced features on the Forum's Strategic Intelligence platform, regular virtual briefings delivered by members of the Forum's Expert Network and participation to select Forum digital events.

In today's world, individuals and organizations operate in a constantly evolving environment. The overwhelming amount of information at our disposal can make it difficult to focus and prioritize, let alone understand the big picture. This makes the ability to tap into a global network of experts from academia, government, business and civil society a strategic asset for any organization. This is what the Forum's Digital Membership will provide you with.

What does Digital Membership include?

Explore topic maps ›

Explore relevant strategic issues and key contextual developments for more than 250 topic areas. Identify the most relevant publications, videos and data in those areas.

Build a customized map ›

Build a customized map to explore and monitor the strategic context of your organization, projects or initiatives. Drive strategic conversations and share complex interrelationships through a simple framework.

Personalized feed ›

Stay ahead of the curve with a personalized knowledge feed: Identify key signals on emerging issues, trends, influencers and related topics.

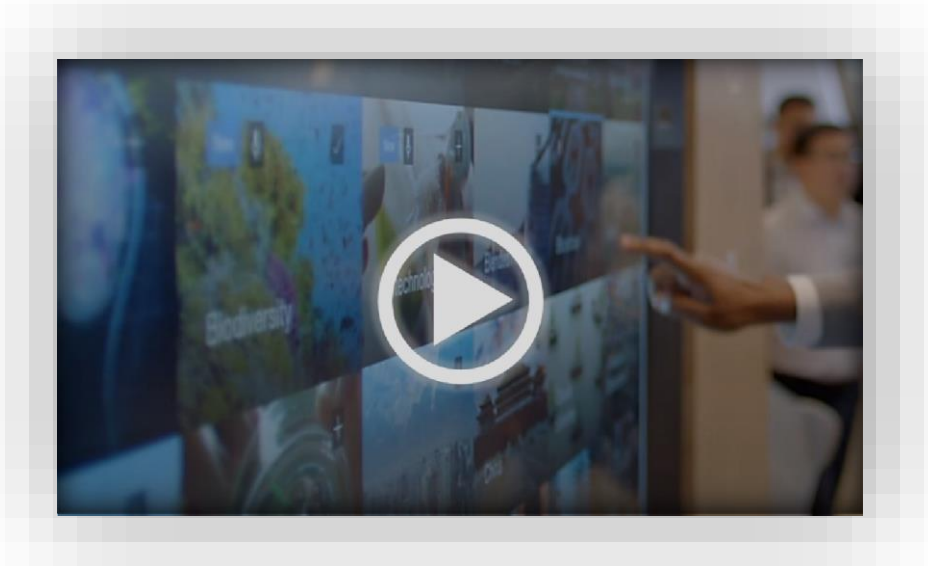

Participate in briefings and virtual events ›

Engage with the Forum community through regular virtual briefings and events led by experts and innovators from across the Forum's network.

What exactly is Strategic Intelligence?

The Forum's Strategic Intelligence platform blends expert and machine intelligence to help you explore and monitor the issues and forces driving transformational change across economies, industries and global issues. At its heart, are the Forum's Transformation Maps which depict and analyse the interdependencies between a wide range of topics, illustrating how developments in one area can impact others.
